

Request for Application (RFA) for Seed grant from Manipal Center for Infectious Diseases (MAC ID) for the year 2022-2023

Description of the Seed Grant Program:

The goal of Manipal Center for Infectious Diseases (MAC ID) seed grant award is to encourage faculty members of MAHE in research in the area of infectious diseases and generate a critical mass of fundamental information/pilot data which can further help the investigators to develop proposals for extramural funding. Proposals must show a clear plan to seek further funding after the seed grant period has ended. The applicant must clearly and convincingly demonstrate that the proposed project represents a research direction in an area likely to generate extramural funding.

Seed grants of INR 2 lakh each will be awarded to deserving proposals. Grants are non-renewable. Duration of the seed grant projects should be a maximum of 12 months. A total of 6 grants would be awarded.

Eligibility

- The principal investigator must be a member of MAC ID and a faculty of MAHE; the co-investigator (s) may be member/non-member.
- Seed grant is open to all areas of Infectious Diseases
- Duration of project should be for a maximum of 1 year
- A MAC ID member can submit one seed grant application as the principal-investigator; however, can be a co-investigator in one other grant application.

Ineligible projects:

- Members who have current funding ≥ 5 Lakhs as Principal Investigator are not eligible to apply for MAC ID seed grants
- The previous seed grant awardees are ineligible to apply.
- Research that is already supported by other sources or fellowships (including TMA Pai student Fellowship).

Time lines:

- Call for proposals open: 11/10/2021
- Application submission due date: 26/11/2021, 17:00 hours
- Review of applications: 06/12/2021 to 21/01/2022
- Announcement of awards: 28/01/2022
- Grant money will be released on submission of Ethics committee approval certificate and biosafety committee approval (as applicable)
- Project start: 01/04/2022
- Project ends: 31/03/2023
